94%

of S&T students receive some type of financial aid.

HIGHER EDUCATION IS AN INVESTMENT IN YOUR FUTURE AND A SIGNIFICANT FINANCIAL DECISION.

One of the most important first steps in determining how to pay for college is your financial aid offer. This guide will help you read and understand the offer you've received, and includes information about estimated costs, the types of aid offered to you, and what you can expect to pay out-of-pocket for the academic year.

We take pride in being recognized as one of the nation's premier value universities, supported by an array of financial factors and datasets. These factors include starting salary ($77,383 on average for our undergraduate students across all majors), tuition, living expenses, student retention rates, and scholarships awarded. Notably, The New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, Money and other publications consistently rank us in the top-tier category for our value.

Thank you for reviewing this guide. Accepting your offer of financial aid indicates that you understand the information provided here and that you are aware of the eligibility requirements you must satisfy to maintain the offer.

HOW TO READ YOUR FINANCIAL AID OFFER

Your financial aid package will likely contain different types of funds like grants, loans and work study. If your family's financial situation changes significantly after you have submitted your FAFSA, email sfs@mst.edu to request a review.

1. Estimated Costs

The estimated Cost of Attendance is based on what most students will spend in a year. The Cost of Attendance is used to determine your eligibility for certain types of need-based aid. It's also a good way to start comparing your financial resources (financial aid, income from work, savings) with your costs. We've done some estimates for you on your financial aid offer letter.

2. Tuition and Fees

S&T offers a flat rate tuition model for undergraduate students, which includes 12–18 credit hours per semester. This simplified and transparent approach, based on major, ensures that students pursuing their undergraduate degrees can focus on their academic goals without the complexity of variable tuition costs. The flat rate structure provides financial predictability and encourages students to take a full course load, promoting timely graduation and academic success.

3. Housing and Dining

Estimated Housing and Dining amounts are based upon the average residential life cost for the campus population. All fee rates are set by the University of Missouri Board of Curators in the spring, and are typically available by April 1 of each year for the upcoming fall semester. For more information, visit dining.mst.edu/diningplans.

4. Indirect Costs

These costs are not billed to the student but should be considered in the overall cost of going to college. These estimates are based on a survey of current S&T students.

- Books and Supplies – Estimate based on a survey of current S&T students.
- Personal Expenses – You have indirect costs you will incur during the year (cell phone, shampoo, toothpaste, etc.).
- Loan Fees – The percent or flat-rate, if any, charged to borrow a loan. Lenders/Service providers may charge other fees besides the interest on the loan for origination and servicing.
- Transportation – Estimate based on a survey of current students and includes two trips home per semester.

5. Financial Aid Offers

Scholarships and grants do not have to be repaid after you graduate. However, you usually have to enroll full-time each semester. Some scholarships can be renewed if you meet certain renewal criteria. For more information, go to sfs.mst.edu. Other scholarships require that you apply each year at scholarships.mst.edu. To have your grant eligibility renewed, you need to submit the FAFSA annually by the priority deadline.

6. Estimated Cost of Attendance After Grants and Scholarships

If your direct and indirect costs are the same as most students' costs, then you would have to pay approximately this much during the course of the year. Keep in mind that this may not be money you pay to S&T; it could be money you use to pay other bills, buy toiletries, etc.

7. Student Loans and Other Options

Loans are a type of financial aid that the student must repay, usually with interest. For more information on loans, please visit go.mst.edu/sfsloans.

STUDENT LOANS

Loans are not required. The amounts must be repaid. Not all student loan debt is considered “bad debt.” We encourage you to consider the investment and check out Mapping Your Future’s student loan debt/salary calculator to help you determine what you can borrow based on the salary you expect to earn with an S&T degree!

Students must accept loans in Joe’S before S&T’s student financial services team will process the funds. First-time S&T borrowers must complete a Direct Loan Master Promissory Note (MPN) and Entrance Counseling at StudentAid.gov before federal funds will disburse to a student’s account.

FEDERAL PARENT AND GRADUATE PLUS LOANS

Because of the lower interest rates on the Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loans, we encourage students to maximize those loan options first. If additional assistance is needed, graduate students and parents of dependent undergraduate students can apply for a Federal Direct PLUS loan. Once we receive notice of your approval for the loan, we will certify and accept the loan on Joe’S. Visit StudentAid.gov to complete the application, credit check, and master promissory note. We encourage you to wait until May to apply for a PLUS loan.

We advise you to consider federal loans first. However, information on private loans can be found on the FASTChoice lender page at go.mst.edu/privateloans. University loans may also be available in high need situations; contact our office if you have questions.

BILLING INFORMATION

Beginning in mid-July, you will receive an email from the student financial services office directing you to pay your bill. You will not receive a paper billing statement in the mail. Online payment through TouchNet is the quickest way for a payment to post to the student account. Students can access their TouchNet account through their Financial Account tile in joess.mst.edu. Payment plan information is available at go.mst.edu/paymentplan. To learn more, call 573-341-4282 or email sfs@mst.edu.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

To see an expanded glossary of terms on our website, go to go.mst.edu/sfsglossary.

VERIFICATION

Each year the federal government requires that we verify the accuracy of FAFSA data submitted by select financial aid applicants. If you are selected for verification, we will request various documents (including tax documents) from you and your family. We can’t distribute any federal or state aid until this process is complete, and this process may change your award package. Please contact our office if you have questions about this process.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS AND FINANCIAL AID

To receive federal, state, and some institutional aid, students must make Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) per federal financial aid guidelines. Please familiarize yourself with these requirements on our website go.mst.edu/sfspolicies. Failure to meet SAP may result in loss of financial aid eligibility.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES TO CONSIDER

Federal and Institutional Work Study are awarded to students with high financial need who complete the FAFSA by the priority deadline. Additional information at: go.mst.edu/sfsworkstudy.
